Specification

The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: In the amendment to page 1 of the specification, applicant should update the status of the continuing data. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Objections

Claims 81, 85-90, 93-97, 101-105 are objected to because of the following informalities: The limitation set forth in claim 81 is redundant in view of the last line of claim 78. It is unclear as to what further structural limitation has been set forth in claims 85-90, 93-97, 101-105. Appropriate correction is required.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 74-106 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-21 of U.S. Patent No. 6,527,716.

Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because they involve an obvious broadening of the patented claims. The specific type of permeant delivered would have been an obvious choice depending on the procedure being performed.

Claims 74-106 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 3,6 of U.S. Patent No. 6,352,506. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because they involve an obvious broadening of the patented claims. The specific type of permeant delivered would have been an obvious choice depending on the procedure being performed.

Claims 74-106 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 35,66 of U.S. Patent No. 5,558,211. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because they involve an obvious broadening of the patented claims. The specific type of permeant delivered would have been an obvious choice depending on the procedure being performed.

Claims 74-106 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-33 of U.S. Patent No. 6,142,939. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because they involve an obvious broadening of the patented claims. The specific type of permeant delivered would have been an obvious choice depending on the procedure being performed. With respect to the apparatus claims, it should be noted that the intended use of the apparatus fails to impose any further structural limitations on the claims.

Claims 74-106 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-43 of U.S. Patent No. 6,022,316. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because they involve an obvious broadening of the patented claims. The specific type of permeant delivered would have been an obvious choice depending on the procedure being performed.

Claims 74-106 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 74-77,88-126,148,151-247 of copending Application No. 10/284,408. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because they involve an obvious broadening of the patented claims. The specific type of permeant delivered would have been an obvious choice depending on the procedure being performed. This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.
